

Bull Terrier Club Dallas
Saturday, March 28, 2026
Afternoon Specialty
Judge: Alesia Cooke

It was my pleasure and honor to accept the invitation to judge for the Bull Terrier Club of Dallas. I would like to sincerely thank the club and its members for their efforts in hosting the event. The show was conducted with professionalism and care, and the hospitality extended throughout the weekend was both gracious and appreciated. A great deal of time and dedication went into making this event possible, and those efforts deserve recognition.

Events like this depend not only on the efforts of the host club, but on the support, goodwill, and participation of the broader community. That responsibility does not end at the ring gate.

Sportsmanship, ethical conduct, and mutual respect are not situational; they are the foundation of a fair and sustainable sport.

We are operating in a time when participation is declining, entries are shrinking, and clubs are struggling to survive. People today choose carefully where they invest their time, money, and energy—and they will not choose environments that feel negative, divisive, or unwelcoming.

As stewards of the Bull Terrier, our conduct matters. The tone we set—through our words, our actions, and yes, even our grudges—directly impacts whether others choose to participate or walk away.

Intent does not outweigh impact. Actions are judged by how they are experienced, and those experiences shape the reputation and future of our clubs.

If we want this sport to endure, we must hold ourselves to a higher standard—one that prioritizes fairness, respect, and the collective good over individual grievances.

Brindle and white dog. Long, smooth profile, good expression, correct eye & ear placement. Clean neck, flat topline, nice forechest, good rear angulation with good bone throughout. Tight cat feet. Moved well in all directions. He is a young, immature dog who should improve in proportion as he develops more spring of rib.

Compact brindle and white. Head long, strong and deep with a gently curved profile. Underjaw deep and well defined. One missing tooth noted. Excellent expression with dark eyes and correct ear set. Chest broad with good depth from withers to brisket. Straight front, sufficient bone and tight cat feet. Well-rounded body with marked spring of rib and a pleasing tuck-up. Back short and strong with a good topline and tail set. Thighs muscular with hocks well let down; stifle well bent with a well-developed second thigh. Moved with grace and ease in all directions.

Young red smut. Strong head with tiny eyes and ears set bang on top, giving a keen, varminty expression. Underjaw could be a little stronger; minor mouth imperfection. Straight front with tight cat feet. Forechest evident, with more to come as she matures. Good depth of brisket well tucked up underneath, with a well-rounded body. Short back with good angulation front and rear. Moved extremely well.

Beauty at Aricon - GCH CH Old England's Bombshell at Bristol.

(Colored). Bitch. Owner: Brooks Jackson & Walter Bavol Jr.

Brindle and white terrier type bitch. Head long, well filled and graceful in profile. Good expression with kind eyes. Mouth correct. Well-constructed front with lovely forechest. Well-rounded body with good depth from withers to brisket and a nicely tucked-up underline. Good bone for her size and a strong topline. Very well balanced throughout with good angulation. Moved well in all directions.

By: Aricon Fiery Eyes at Clansmann - Magic Eye Finalist of Aricon.

(Colored). Dog. Owner: Gavin Britz.

Upstanding brindle and white. Head long and smooth, would benefit from a little more strength. Lovely length of neck, good width of chest and straight front. Tight cat feet. Good depth of brisket, well-rounded body and defined underline. Good angulation front and rear. Moved well in all directions. Overall, a very well-constructed dog of a different style to my BOV, who excelled in head strength.

From Old Forge - GCH CH Kidnappingof Persephone. (White). Dog.

Owner: Diego Marquez.

Heavyweight white. Head long and strong with a slight brow. Good expression, which would be enhanced by tidier ears. Strong, well-rounded body, short back with terrific bone and tight cat feet. On the move, a touch wide in front, more correct behind, maintaining a level topline in profile.

CH La Celosia The Maniac - GCH Brandy Let's Go Party Bulterrier.

(White). Bitch. Owner: Israel Blas & Ivory Blas.

White with red head marking. Lovely head with length and fill. Small triangular eyes and well-set ears, giving a pleasing expression when settled. Nice substance for her size. As she was at her first show, she was understandably unsettled and did not move to her best advantage today.

Lota Hoopla - St. George Sugar Sugar. (White). Dog. Owner: Elise & Scott McHatton & Kim Bebb.

White male with moderate head, smooth profile and correct finish. Well-constructed throughout, with a strong neck flowing into a correct topline and well-set tail. Balanced angulation front and rear. Good bone for his size, tidy feet, and presented in immaculate condition. Would be even more complete with a little more fill under the eyes.
